Part 1. General Topology. The goal of this part of the book is to teach the language of mathematics. More specifically, one of its most important components: the language of set-theoretic topology, which treats the basic notions related to continuity.

R. Engelking: General Topology I started to make these notes from [E1] and only later the newer edition [E2] got into my hands. I don't think that there were too much changes in numbering ... The topology \mathcal{O}_f is called the topology generated by the family of mappings $f \in \mathcal{S}$.

It is connected but not path-connected. In mathematics, general topology is the branch of topology that deals with the basic set-theoretic definitions and constructions used in topology. It is the foundation of most other branches of topology, including differential topology, geometric topology, and algebraic topology.

Mathematics 490 Introduction to Topology Winter 2007 All points of the form $(x, \sqrt{1-x^2})$ are identified.

• All points of the form $(x, +1)$ are identified. • All other points are left alone. Then we claim that the suspension SX can be obtained by gluing two cones over X along a function.

Chapter 1 Topological spaces. 1.1 A short review of Set Theory. Let us recall a few notations, results and formulas of Set Theory which are of constant use. • One denotes by $\hat{}$ the empty set and by $\{pt\}$ a set with a single element. • For a set X , one denotes by $P(X)$ the set of all subsets of X . • For two sets X .

set topology, which is concerned with the more analytical and aspects of the theory. Part II is an introduction to algebraic topology, which associates algebraic structures such as groups to topological spaces. We will follow Munkres for the whole course, with some occasional added topics or different perspectives.
