Prostate-specific antigen (PSA), also known as gamma-seminoprotein or kallikrein-3 (KLK3), is a glycoprotein enzyme encoded in humans by the KLK3 gene. PSA is a member of the kallikrein-related peptidase family and is secreted by the epithelial cells of the prostate gland. PSA is produced for the ejaculate, where it liquefies semen in the seminal coagulum and allows sperm to swim freely.

Prostate cancer antigen 3 (PCA3, also referred to as DD3) is a gene that expresses a non-coding RNA. PCA3 is only expressed in human prostate tissue, and the gene is highly overexpressed in prostate cancer. Because of its restricted expression profile, the PCA3 RNA is useful as a tumor marker.

We report the discovery of a novel nonsteroidal dual-action compound, ODM-204, that holds promise for treating patients with castration-resistant prostate cancer (CRPC), an advanced form of prostate cancer characterized by high androgen receptor (AR) expression and persistent activation of the AR signaling axis by residual tissue androgens.

NCI supports research to address cancer disparities among American Indian and Alaska Native populations. In this video, two researchers advocate for more culturally sensitive practices to help people who are most disproportionately affected by cancer disparities.

Anoikis is a hallmark of cancer enabling tumor cells with metastatic skills.. Cancer cells exploit different strategies to overcome anoikis.. miRNA modulation and metabolic adaptation correlate with anoikis resistance.. Oxidative stress and hypoxia favor cell escaping from anoikis.. Anoikis insensitivity provides several advantages alongside the metastatic pathway.

Cancer is the second leading cause of death and is becoming the leading one in old age. Vegetable and fruit consumption is inversely associated with cancer incidence and mortality. Currently, interest in a number of fruits high in polyphenols has been raised due to their reported chemopreventive and/or chemotherapeutic potential. Pomegranate has been shown to exert anticancer activity, which ...

BRCA1 Mutation & Del/Dup Analysis. This test is performed by sequencing the entire BRCA1 gene using next-gen sequencing complemented by conventional Sanger sequencing or other molecular methodologies to detect point mutations, small insertions/deletions, and large deletions/duplications.

Introduction to Vitamins and Minerals. Vitamins are organic molecules that function in a wide variety of capacities within the body. The most prominent function of the vitamins is to serve as cofactors (co-enzymes) for enzymatic reactions.
